THE SENIOR CLASS

OF

WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

New London, Wisconsin

PRESENTS THE

CLASSMATE

IN MEMORIAM

The faculty and students were deeply grieved by the untimely death of their friend and classmate, Arlene Berg.

She will be long remembered by all who knew her, especially by the graduating class, the class of 1953.

FOREWARD

On completing his masterpiece, an artist views his work hoping it will gain the appreciation of the world; so also the staff views this book of memories, hoping each of you will like it.

It isn't of great literary value, nor will it ever be important to others; but, to us it represents the memories of the hardships as well as joys which characterize those unforgettable years.

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1953, dedicate this annual to Louis Schmallerberg in appreciation for the untiring effort with which he has served the students of New London High School.

In 1935, Mr. Schmallerberg became associated with the school as a member of the Board of Education. After serving in this capacity for eight years, he resigned to assume his present position as Chief Engineer in the school system.

Too often we fail to appreciate those factors that contribute most toward the attainment of our goals. We are very fortunate to be influenced by the faithful devotion of Mr. Schmallerberg.

To Seniors:

The 1952-53 school year draws to a close, and as I reflect on the many pleasant experiences it has brought to me, it seems that time passes with increasing speed. I am sure that the year has many pleasant memories for you, and I trust the future will bring the successes you hope for. There is no simple formula for happiness in life, but hard work and honest devotion to a clearly conceived and high ideal will do as much as anything I can recommend to you. I am sure you will find that practicing honesty, persistence and courtesy is not only your moral duty to society, but that it will also bring you a good and satisfying life.

Sincerely your friend,

PAUL M. LOOFBORO, Superintendent

CURTAIN CALL

The scene is Washington High School. The time, September of 1949. The curtain rises and we see ourselves as Freshmen; bewildered, nervous, and over-anxious. With helpful prompting from the upperclassmen we, as amateur actors, timidly take up our role in the great drama of high school life. Although we accomplish little in the fields of extra-curricular activities, however, a firm groundwork is laid upon which to build greater achievements.

The second scene is the same, one year later. The actors are more confident and assured as we become active participants in dramatics, music, and athletics. A climax is reached with the winning of the famed Spirit Cup.

This triumph is carried over into the third scene which finds the actors bustling about in a colorful Hawaiian setting. The palm trees and soft music make our prom a far greater success than could rightly be anticipated. Armed with shiny class rings and the Spirit Cup, the actors take their places for the final act.

All traces of stagefright are absent, we are now seasoned performers. Our abounding school spirit leads us to success in contests, skits, and plays. "Men Are Like Streetcars" displays a sense of humor and an excellent scholastic record proves we have a more serious side also.

Now, the lights dim, the atmosphere grows hushed as the curtain begins to close. We move across the stage, passing in review. Musicians, Athletes, Orators, and Scholars, all with tearful eyes but unfaltering steps. We advance to the footlights and take our final bow before going our various ways. Never again will the entire cast be assembled, but memories of past performances will live in our hearts forever.

HEADING FOR THE LAST ROUNDUP

When we first entered this building, we thought our Junior year would never come. It seemed to us that the Juniors had the most activities and fun.

But it came sooner than we thought. And it passed faster than most of us wanted it to. We had much excitement and many good times. Much of our spare time was used for outside activities.

Our first big thrill was our class rings. We thought they were the prettiest of any class. We showed them off to all the other students because we were proud of them. We felt flattered when a Senior remarked that they liked ours better than their own.

Our second and biggest thrill was the prom. We chose Russell Rusch as our prom king and Maytime as our theme.

Now that our first three years are finished, we hope our last year will be just as wonderful as the first three.

ARE WE THIS FAR ALREADY?

"Hi, ya, Frosh!" shouted a happy Sophomore, remembering the days when he was a "greenhorn" and the upperclassmen hollered the same to him.

"Oh boy are we lucky — gym only twice a week! But now we have to figure how $X^3 - 4X - 2X = ???$ Do we have to take algebra? Even world history marches our way."

The Sophomore class has proved itself to be a big improvement over its Freshman year. Maybe the thought of no longer being "Frosh" had something to do with the situation. The class has a high scholastic ability, proved by the large number of students on the honor roll. In addition to being a scholastic group, they are well represented in extra-curricular activities.

In addition to their hard studies, the Sophomores turned out to win second place among the four classes in the Hallowe'en floats. They came out in third place among the school organizations.

Spring rolled along and with it came the happy thought of vacations, and no more hard work. As "taps" were heard in the distance, they looked forward with eager eyes to the time when they would become "big Juniors."

ON TO GREATER HEIGHTS

Last fall we entered into an entirely new world. A world in which we had to assume responsibility — or else! Being like all freshmen before us, we were dubbed with the traditional name "Greenhorns" and were seen dashing through the corridors between classes muttering our locker "coms".

Yes, we were new at this job of being Freshmen, but we soon made those "know it all" upperclassmen sit up and take notice. Under the able leadership of our class officers we had a really big first year.

Two petite young ladies namely Dawn McPeak and Fern Marcks represented us in the homecoming queen's court of honor. Nor was the Freshman float anything to be pushed aside.

"Let's Make-Up" brought all our talented actors and actresses out into the open.

Now that our "green" year is over, we look forward to even bigger and better things next year. Watchout!

THE BULLDOG GOVERNS . . .

The Student Council members are elected each year by the students and are composed of a representative elected from each of the various clubs, organizations, and classes.

The Student Council provided action for many special events of the year.

In addition to its regular meetings and duties the council again sponsored noon movies which proved to be a real success.

The Council sent four delegates to the State Convention held at Eau Claire. At this meeting the delegates discussed, with student representatives from other schools, how their councils function and how they differ.

The leaders of the Council included: President, Du Waine Scheid; Vice-President, Gordon Bauer; Secretary-Treasurer, Dorothy Cuff.

BULLDOG BOOSTERS

Under the guidance of Miss Tipler and Mr. Klinzing, the Pep Club inspired more school spirit than the school has ever seen. With the help of bulletin board and blackboard drawings, students were reminded of school spirit every day.

The officers of this year's group were as follows: President, Art Crain; Vice-President, Luonne McDermott; Secretary, Jane Edminster; Treasurer, Jack Charlesworth; and Student Council Representative, Dave Wege.

The Pep Club sponsored the Snake Dance and built one of the biggest bonfires we've ever had for the Homecoming festivities. Both "A" and "B" squad cheerleaders were sponsored by this active group. Frequent pep assemblies, for which the club arranged skits and provided speakers, proved to be very successful.

The Bulldog Edits . . .

Two days before the School Daze is due to come out, the journalism room is in a quandry. Someone has run off a page upside down. Not only that, but somebody else didn't run off enough copies of page 4 and the stencil can't be found. Oh, well, that's the reason for typists.

Miss Harrington, our very able advisor, just took everything in stride with her good-natured smile and thought to herself, "This is the last straw. Surely nothing else can go wrong." But she didn't know our staff. We can do anything—wrong!

There have been many times when our hard-working editor, Darlene Schimke, thought that the paper would never come out on time. But her hard-working staff has never failed her. We've come awfully close though.

But amid all the confusion and fuss, we've had our share of fun, even though our grey hairs may come a little early.

THE BULLDOG PERFORMS . . .

The seventy piece senior band again had a musically successful school year. The fall season was highlighted by the intricate and well drilled halftime football shows presented at all the home games. The football show "Salute to the Politicians" was the hit of the season and was well received by the fans.

The pep band performed at all the home basketball games and helped to spread school spirit with its spirited music and pep cheers. The band also participated in all pep sessions and presented a very humorous pep skit.

The annual Christmas concert was the peak performance of the first semester and was attended by an overflow audience of one-thousand listeners.

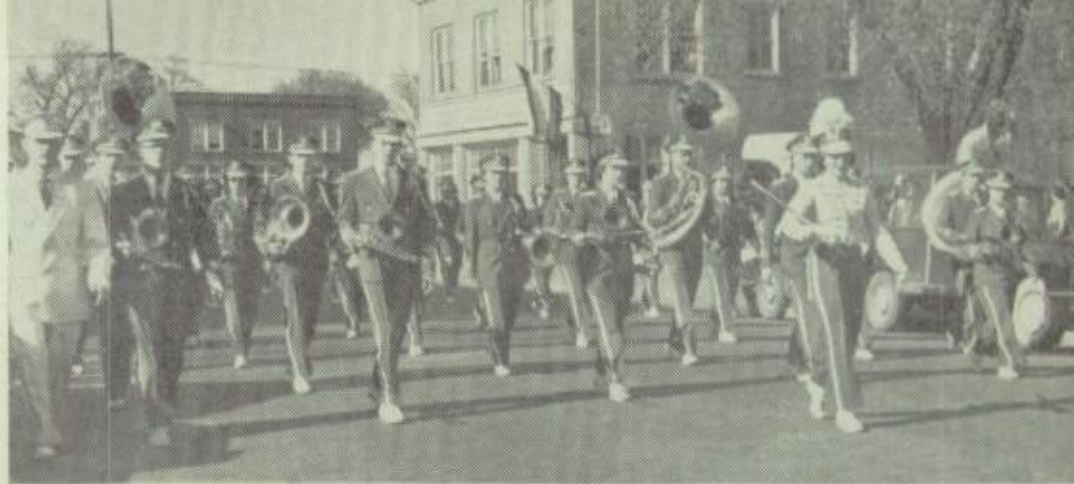

The band was invited to perform at the Oshkosh State College on February 10 and presented an hours length publicity concert for the college.

New London was again selected as the host school for the concert and parade events of the Wolf River Valley Music Conference. For the fifth consecutive year the band, under the direction of Mr. Bleick, participated in the Class "A" events.

The solo and ensemble events of the spring festival were held at Kimberly and the New London Bandsmen returned with a total of sixteen stars. Those that received a starred rating at Kimberly attended the State Contest at Madison and did equally well in that venture.

At the time this article went to press, plans were being made by the New London Lions Club to take the band on an educational tour to the International Lions Club Convention being held in Chicago this summer.

"The Pride of New London."

"The French Horn Section Gets Together."

"On to the State Tournament."

"Practice Makes Perfect."

THE BULLDOG CHANTS . . .

The first appearance of the Choral Groups was at the Christmas Concert. The Mixed Choir, under the able guidance of Miss McKinlay, offered selections from the Messiah. In keeping with that truly great spirit of Christmas, many carols were sung by the Madrigal Group.

The solo and ensemble was held at Kimberly and although only Duane Hoerning and the Madrigal were starred, the other students entered in the festival felt it had been a successful day.

We were the host school for the non-competitive Festival this year. The judge's comments left us with the feeling that we had satisfied his demanding ear.

The Mixed Chorus sponsored an appearance of the University of Wisconsin Choir in the spring. This event was one of the highlights of the musical season in the city. It was an adventure in music for many of us because of their truly varied repertoire.

The Bulldog's Last Performance . .

The dramatic productions of 1952-53 were started with a bang on the 29th of January. The first play of the season was "Men Are Like Streetcars", the traditional senior production. Under the able direction of Miss Margaret Behan the cast overcame all obstacles and delays in presenting the yearly spectacle.

The cast included Gary Bernegger, Margaret O'Connell, Margaret Christ, Carol McGinnis, Lorrita Surprise, Darlene Schimke, Mary Hutchison, Charlotte Sackett, Helen Fitzgerald, Barbara Fisher, Marlene Meating, Bill Urban, Dennis Schoening, and Jim Bauernfeind, and centered around the activities of Mary Madden, cast as Maudie.

The entire comedy was well-received by the audience and provided a "laugh-a-minute" to all who were present.

BULLDOG BARRYMORES . . .

Once again the Thespians had a very successful year. Their efforts were concentrated on carrying out their two annual projects—sponsorship of the one-act play contest and presentation of the Thespian three-act mystery-comedy.

Each of the one-act plays was directed by two student directors. They were under the direction of the following people: Margaret Christ and Pete Van Alstine, Freshmen; Darlene Schimke and Duane Hoerning, Sophomores; Dorothy Cuff and Leon Fisher, Juniors; and Helen Fitzgerald and Mary Madden, Seniors. The class of '53 won 1st place in the contest, thereby being awarded the most points toward the Spirit Cup.

The biggest event of the year for the Thespians came when they presented "Who Killed Aunt Caroline?" under the very able direction of their advisor, Mr. Hoffman. The play was built around the killing of rich old Aunt Caroline. The cast kept us all wondering which of the innocent ones to suspect. They all seemed like perfectly innocent people, particularly Miss Mabbit.

Our Thespian troupe is a member of the National Honorary Dramatic Society for high schools. It was formed to encourage active participation in the different phases of acting and stagework. Students obtain membership through participation in one-act plays and by working on production crews.

The officers who led the troupe this year were: Gary Bernegger, president; Margaret Christ, vice-president; Dorothy Cuff, secretary-treasurer; and Gordon Bauer, Student Council representative.

The Bulldog Disects

The main activity of our club is the annual science meet at Appleton. Members work in groups and report on various projects pertaining to science.

We sponsored the "Snow Ball", a formal dance, on December 26. This helped finance a trip to Chicago at the end of the school year. The museum and science building were toured under the guidance of our advisor, Mr. Kluever. It is a goal worth working for throughout the year.

The officers were as follows: president, Darrell Berlund; vice-president, Loritta Surprise; secretary, Jo Ann Zaug; treasurer, Mark Madden; and student council representative, Gary Bernegger.

Being one of the most active groups in school, the Biology Club had a busy and successful year.

Bulldog Homemakers . . .

The Future Homemakers of America is one of the largest organizations in school. This organization sponsored many projects of interest to the community during the past year. Parents' Night held jointly with the Future Farmers of America, was one of the first events.

The F.H.A. assisted with making the Farm institute on January 28, a success. The senior members were treated to a trip to Milwaukee on April 17, which they all enjoyed.

The girls take courses in cooking, and sewing, which prepares them to be better homemakers, and to prepare them for the selection of their life's vocation.

With the guidance of Mrs. Suomi they completed another successful year in the field of homemaking. The officers during the past year were: Dorothy Pribbernow, president; Mildred Gauerke, vice-president; Norma Konrad, secretary; and Lu Wayne Paul, treasurer.

BULLDOG AGRICULTURISTS

The aim of the F.F.A. is to train students interested in agriculture, to become better farmers.

Again this year, the Seniors were rewarded for their outstanding work with a trip financed through money earned by the organization.

At various times throughout the year the organization sold seeds, Christmas cards, pencils and chocolate milk to raise money necessary to carry out its program.

The large membership was advised by Mr. Hohman, who was assisted by the following officers: President, Orlin Kuehl; Vice-President, Russell Rusch; Secretary, Dudley Krenke; and Student Council Representative, Alan Danke.

THE BULLDOG FROLICS . . .

The large membership in G.A.A. made this year a huge success.

The fall season was opened with soccer. As the weather changed, the girls came inside and played volleyball and basketball. These were followed by social sports.

The G.A.A. girls provided the fans with entertainment during the half-time of our home basketball games when they exhibited their tumbling skill. When the first signs of spring came, baseball was organized as the final sport of the season.

The officers elected for the 1952-1953 season were: President, Jane Edminster; Vice-President, Eunice Bruss; Secretary-Treasurer, Luonne McDermott; Student Council Representative, Janis Knuth.

BULLDOGS . . .

The N Club is an organization made up of all athletes who have won at least one letter in any major sport. It is a well-functioning club and is active in many affairs.

Funds for the club have come from sponsoring some dances and collecting dues from members.

The officers of the club are: President, Dennis Schoening; Vice-President, Don Kroll; Secretary-Treasurer Art Crain.

This year, although the privilege of sponsoring the dance was given to the G.A.A., the club held the election for home-coming queen.

The club is expanding every year and should easily keep up its tradition as a well-formed club.

THE BULLDOG BARKS

The forensic program has turned out to be one of the most productive extra-curricular activities in New London High. This gives the students a chance to learn to have self-confidence in themselves and most of all poise.

In the latter part of February, voices could be heard coming from unoccupied classrooms where the members of the forensic league were vigorously practicing for the contest which was scheduled in March.

The membership turnout this year was on the average of the previous years. Our coach this year was Mr. Huppler.

The Bulldog Poses . . .

Under the able leadership of Mr. Brown, the Camera Club spent a very busy year. They sponsored floats, dances, an exciting photo contest, and several parties in addition to their regular activities.

Through their study of photography, the members are becoming quite proficient in the art of picture-taking and are proving themselves to be an asset to our school.

Bulldog Projectionists . . .

The success of the visual aids program here at Washington High depends largely upon the projector club.

Once again this year the projector club, under the direction of Mr. Plantico, shows all movies connected with classwork and other school activities.

A sure sign that the projector club is one of the most active groups in school is the daily reference to it in the morning and noon announcements.

The bulldog goes formal . .

Aloha means farewell, and isn't the prom a farewell to the Seniors? This was the idea the Juniors thought up for their prom.

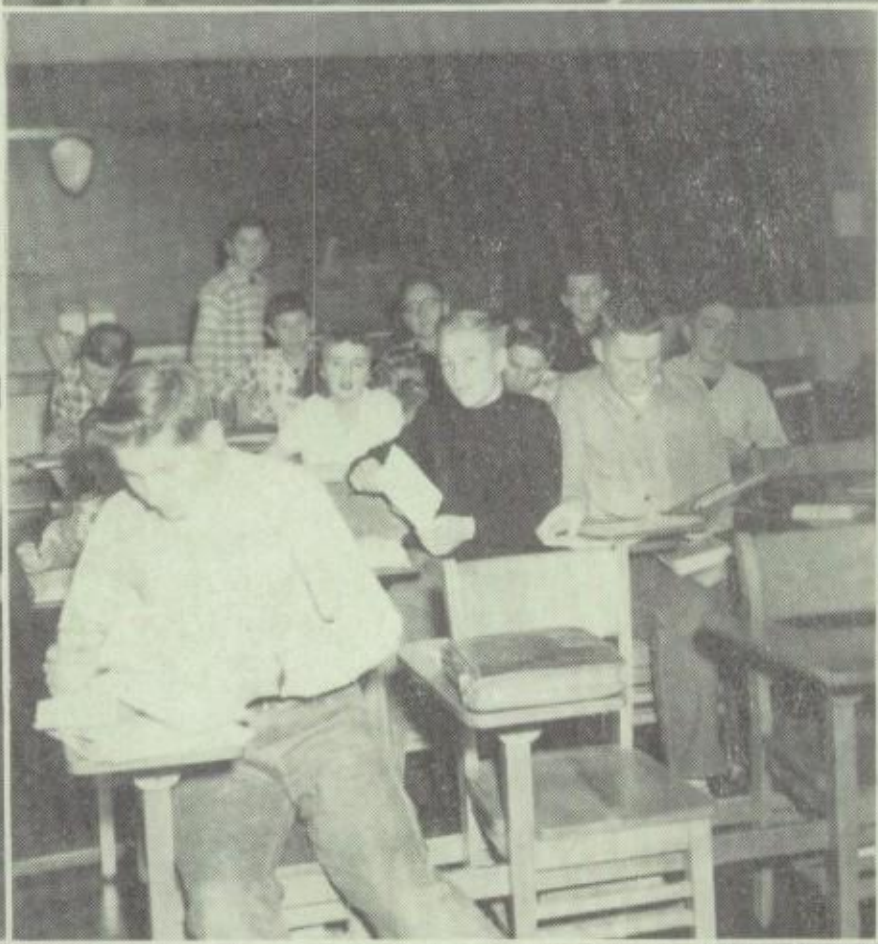

After the theme was selected, the problem of decorating had to be solved. That was going to be complicated. How could they have palm trees, flowers, and all the things necessary to make the gym similar to those romantic islands?

It took lots of time and hard work, but they did it. On the night of May 2, we walked over a bridge, under which was a real pond with water lilies. We thus entered the atmosphere of Aloha.

Wally Beau and his orchestra were surrounded by a white picket fence — a world of their own. And we were in a world all our own — a world of Palm trees, girls in grass skirts, bamboo seats, everything necessary to create the right atmosphere.

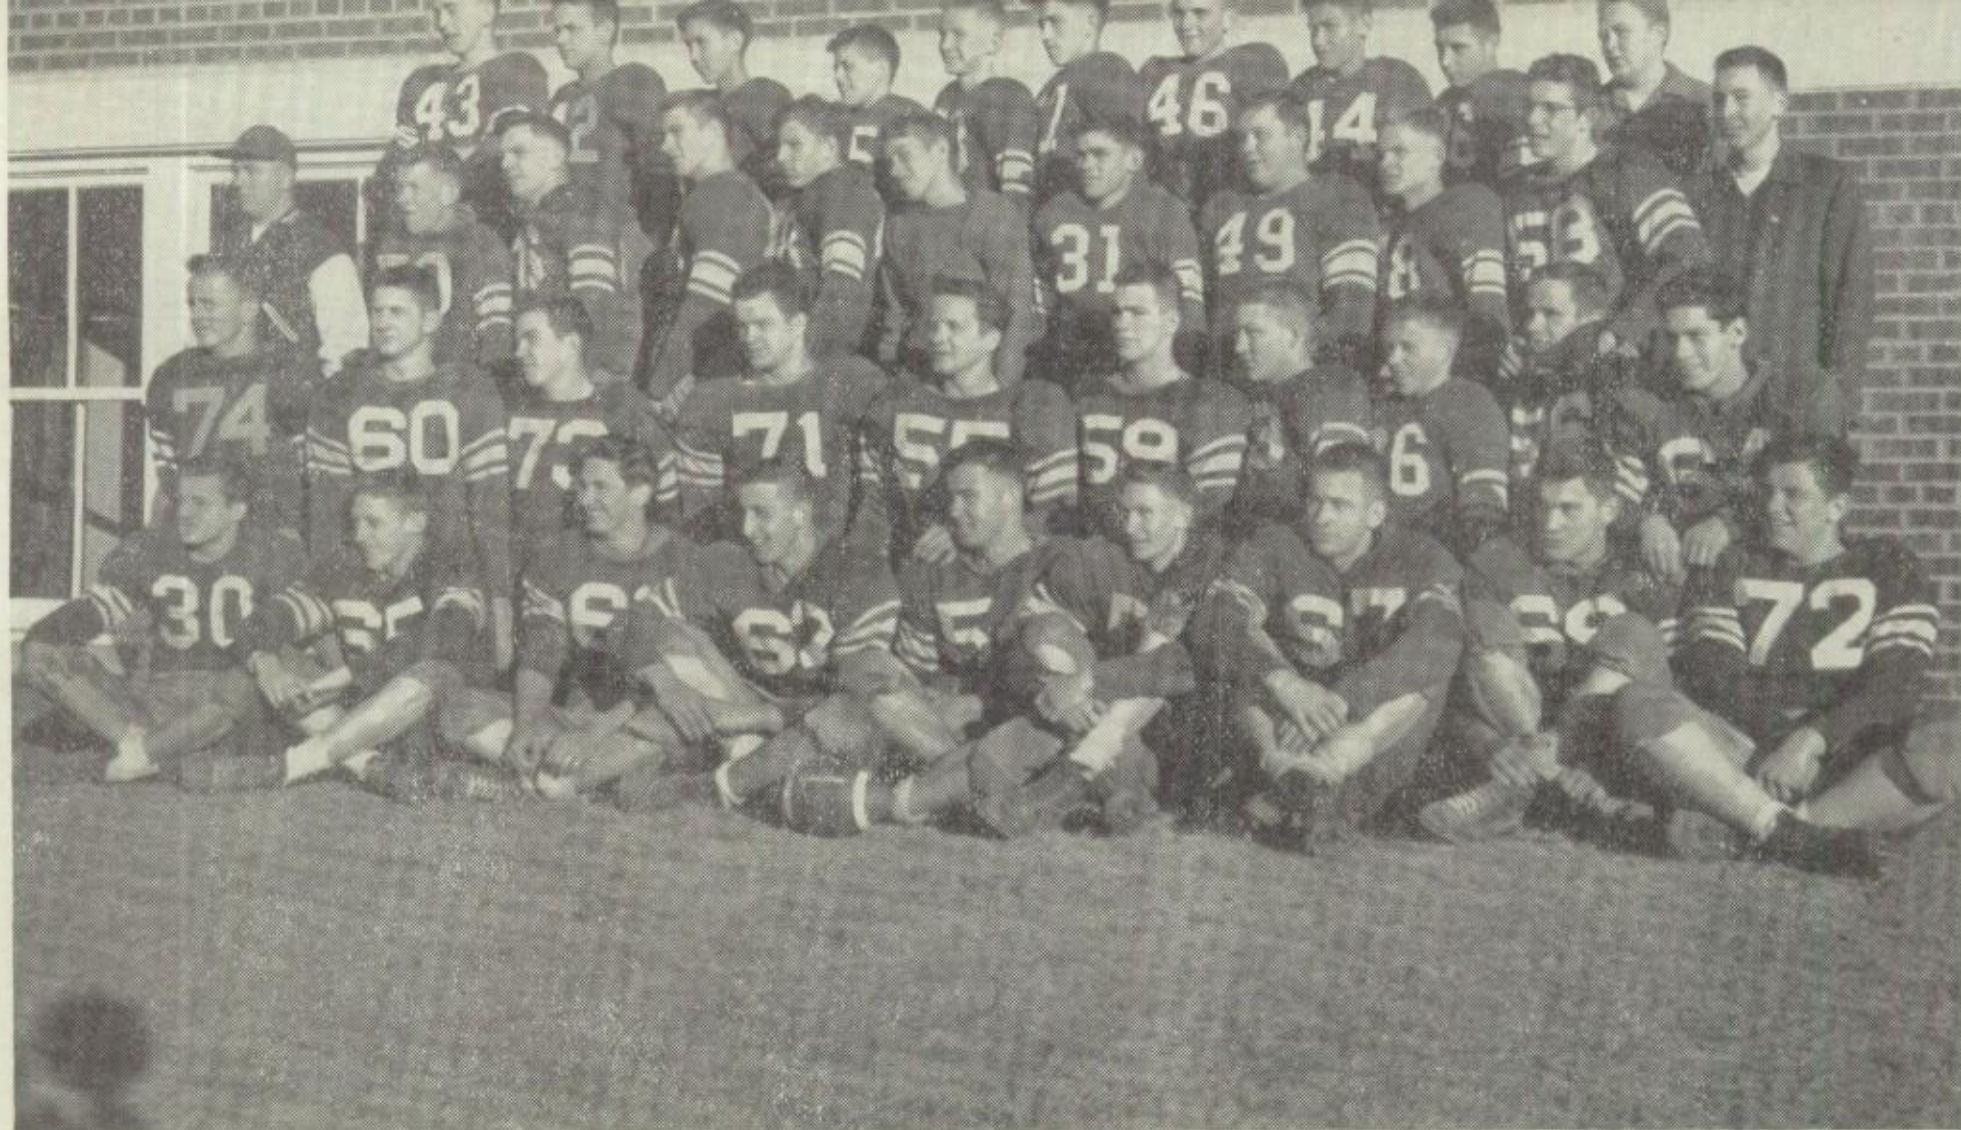

King Du Waine Schied and his queen, Marlene Meating, were crowned by Jim Madden and his date, Joan DeGroff. The king and queen were seated on a throne of bamboo seats with palm trees surrounding them.

A wonderful time was had by all. The time for departure arrived much too soon.

The Bulldog Tackles . . .

The year 1952 saw more boys coming out for football than in past years. Under their capable coach, Vermont Johnson, and assistants, Jack Rainbow and Donald Clark, the boys played scrappy football. They won one, tied one and lost the rest by very close scores.

Our fighting eleven opened the season with a thrilling 13-6 loss at the hands of St. Mary's. Even though they lost the game, the statistics were highly in their favor, and they all but passed St. Mary's out of the park in the second half.

The next game was against Two Rivers where the Bulldogs missed several scoring opportunities after pushing Two Rivers all over the field and had to settle for a tie. The final score was 6 all. New London finally broke into the win column at Kimberly when they ruined the Papermaker's homecoming and came home with a 12-6 victory.

The annual Homecoming game was a loss as New London went down to a 19-12 defeat at the hands of Kaukauna's Galloping Ghosts. New London didn't win the remaining ball games, but they had the special distinction of being the first team to score against Neenah.

Co-captains were elected at the end of the season and Gary Bernegger and Bill Urban were selected for the honors. Pete Van Alstine and Bernegger were on the all-conference defensive first team. Urban and Don Kroll received honorable mention.

Twelve Seniors and eleven underclassmen received letters. The Seniors who won awards were Bernegger, Urban, Kroll, Dennis Schoening, Du Waine Schied, Darrell Berglund, Ronald Knapstein, Jack Lindberg, Tom Wolfe, John Schimke, Don Stever, Jim Thomas, and Jerry Mullarkey.

The Bulldog Dribbles . . .

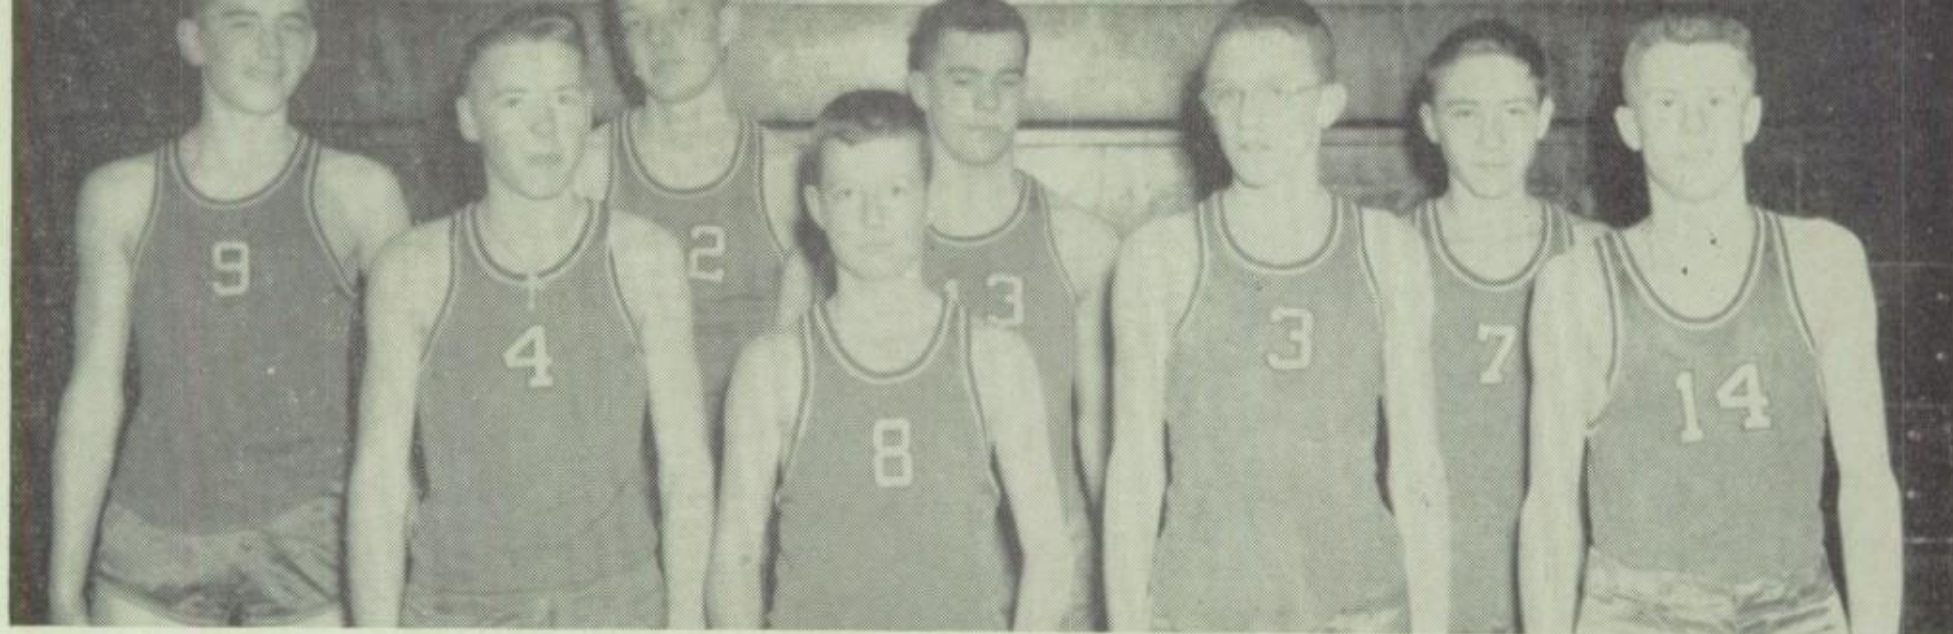

Posting a record of 4 wins and 18 losses, Coach Jack Rainbow's Bulldog quintet played scrappy, heads-up ball. Although the 4-18 record may not impress the experts, it was an improvement over the records of previous years.

New London opened the season successfully as they won their first conference game 63-61 in a thrilling double overtime victory against Clintonville. The Bulldogs failed to win a conference game after the season opener, but they lost many close ones. Take for example the 65-60 loss at the hands of Menasha, the 1953 State Champions!

In non-conference competition, New London was more successful. They defeated Berlin, Algoma, and Seymour, while they lost to St. Mary's, New Holstein, and Waupaca.

There was satisfaction, however, in at least part of our Conference play. Don Kroll, Bulldog forward, set a new Mid-Eastern Conference record as he became the only player in the conference's history to score 300 points. His record of 307 points beat Pat O'Keefe's previous total of 279. Although Kroll deserves much praise, his teammates should also be complimented, because if they hadn't co-operated, Kroll's record would not have been possible. Kroll was also a unanimous choice on the All-Conference team.

Letter winners on the squad included the following Seniors: Don Kroll, Harold Meshke, Bob Peterson, Bill Urban, Dennis Schoening, Darrell Berglund, and Gene Huettnner. Juniors who won awards were Jack Charlesworth, Pete Van Alstine, and Jim Swanson.

The Bulldog Sprints . . .

With only one returning letterman, Bob Peterson, our hopes for a successful season rested largely on untried underclassmen.

Starting with roadwork in early April and continuing throughout the season, the 1953 squad showed continual high spirits.

The first dual meet of the season with Appleton was followed by four successive triangular meets. Then came the conference meet at Neenah in early May, which was succeeded by the season finale, the sectional meet, also held in Neenah.

Under the direction of coach Vermont Johnson, the Bulldog thinclads finished their season with satisfying results and showed a promise of better seasons ahead.

The Bulldog Homers . . .

Before the snow even got off the ground there was a group of boys that were working out in the gym getting their arms and batting eyes in shape. When the snow was gone they moved down to Hatten Park where Coach Cyril Kluever could be seen looking over this year's prospects. Many of the boys played on the Legion Baseball team over the summer, while others were out for the first time this year.

The schedule for the year was one game with each of the following schools: Kimberly, Kaukauna, Shawano, Neenah, Menasha, Two Rivers, and Clintonville. Several other games were also played with smaller schools in the vicinity.

On completion of the conference season a series of tournaments were held which led the winner to the state championship.

The New London team, regardless of the fact that it was made up of many under classmen, made a fine showing.
